

Peering into the future: The Future of Work and Travel Patterns

This illustration captures ideas generated as part of a discussion during Session #1 "The Future of Emissions: Covid-19 implications, shifting geopolitics, economic recovery, and opportunities" of 2050 Today virtual event in February 2021. The participants were asked 'What's your ideal vision for the future of work and transportation as it relates to 2050?'

2050
TODAY

Virtual and hybrid meetings create opportunities for more people to participate

65+
RIDE
SHARE

Integrated work, live and play

Equitable labor policies

Public micro-mobility options

Radically fair transit for marginalized communities

Accessible and equitable mobility options

FREE

The global south

leapfrogs high carbon transport systems